What is a Group Purchasing Organization (GPO)?

A GPO is an entity that consolidates the buying power of its members to negotiate and obtain discounts from vendors, manufacturers and distributors. The GPO takes proactive measures to help members reduce overall expenses and ensure they receive best-in-class values.

What is the difference between AMP and other GPOs?

While most GPOs are tailored towards hospitals, AMP provides physicians in both solo and large group practices the opportunity to benefit from the consolidated buying power of our membership. Because AMP works with vendors that provide products and services to plastic surgeons, we are able to get better discounts on most of the common and specialty products that AMP members require.

When I sign up for AMP, do I have to buy all my supplies and equipment from the AMP contracted vendors?
